Monza, race 3: Pasma wins, Monza is his

The Finnish driver of KIC Motorsport wins race 3 and shows that on the Brianza circuit he is unbeatable. Behind Petecof limits the damage, while Lappalainen confirms that KIC is in good shape on this circuit.

In a weekend the shadow of Mugello for Leclerc, the Monegasque starts on pole ahead of Pasma, Petecof and Rasmussen. Leclerc starts well but in a short time the Finnish of KIC Motorsport takes advantage of the slipstream to pass first, with a speed superior to all and that he has shown throughout the weekend.

Pasma stretches, while Petecof overtakes Leclerc in difficulty, and who after a few corners goes out partially on the sand and has to defend himself from Lappalainen and Rasmussen who overtake him. But the group behind Pasma and Petecof is compact and the battle exciting.

After a couple of laps Chovet also passes Leclerc in great difficulty.

Pasma continues to make fast laps, while the only one to resist his pace is Petecof.

The positions stabilize with Pasma, Petecof at 1.3, then Lappalainen, Rasmussen, Chovet and Leclerc.

Chevot great on Rasmussen but does not manage to overtake him. Meanwhile Pasma lap after lap stretches on Petecof, who is unable to keep up. Pasma here in Monza is unbeatable!

Pasma wins, and if it hadn't been for a stupid naivety in race 2 would have made a triple win. Behind, Gianluca Petecof defends himself and is the championship leader on a shadowed Leclerc at Monza, only sixth. Third Lappalainen, fourth Rasmussen, fifth Chovet who fails to overtake the Dane.

The next appointment will be in Barcelona on the weekend of November 1st.
