

Monaco, qualifying: Maloney e Hadjar

21/05/2021 07:29

In the early morning qualifying sessions in Monaco, it is Zane Maloney (R-ace GP) to obtain the best overall time with 1:28.893), an amazing lap time also helped by a track that has been evidently constantly improving, helping Group B drivers whose session was after Group A. Great job also by his teammate and Rookie, Isack Hadjar, with 1:29.727, the fastest of the first Group. The French driver will start in pole position tomorrow in Race 1, while the driver from Barbados will be on pole in Race 2 on Sunday.

In Group A, after Hadjar, Paul Aron (Prema Powerteam – 1:30.004), Patrick Pasma (KIC Motorsport – 1:30.207), David Vidales (Prema Powerteam – 1:30.212), Mari Boya (Van Amersfoort Racing – 1:30.476), second among the Rookies of the group, and Gabriele Minì (ART Grand Prix – 1:30.564).

In Group B, behind the driver from Barbados we find Hadrien David (R-ace GP – 1:29.047), Alex Quinn (Arden Motorsport – 1:29.092), Franco Colapinto (MP Motorsport – 1:29.212), William Alatalo (Arden Motorsport – 1:29.336) and Grégoire Saucy (1:29.525).

(Provisional results)

Starting grid of Race 1 officialized

21/05/2021 15:28

The final classification of the QP changes due to the cancellation of all lap times of the driver Franco Colapinto as a consequence of technical non-conformity of his car. The MP Motorsport driver has decided to retire the car and not participate to the race. This also determines that with 32 drivers competing, both the 12th positioned drivers in QP of Group A and Group B will compete in Race 1 and Race 2, so Nicola Marinangeli (Arden motorsport) will be at the start also tomorrow.

2021 FRECA – Rd 03 – MONACO – Q – Group A – Classification \(Final\)

2021 FRECA – Rd 03 – MONACO – Q – Group B – Classification \(Final\)

The starting grid of Race 1 is now official, with Isack Hadjar confirmed in pole position, in front of Zane Maloney, Paul Aron and Adrian David. Starting grid of Race 2 will be communicated tomorrow after Race 1.

2021 FRECA – Round 03 – MONACO – Official Entry List V1